Becauſe,my Lord,we would haue had you heard
The traitor ſpeake,and timerouſly confeſſe
The maner,and the purpoſe of his treaſon,
That you might well haue ſignified the ſame
Vnto the Citizens,who happily may
Miſconſter vs in him,and wayle his death.
Ma. But my good Lord,your graces word ſhall ſerue
As well as I had ſeene or heard him ſpeake,
And doubt you not,right noble Princes both,
But Ile acquaint your dutious citizens,
With all your iuſt proceedings in this cauſe.
Glo. And to that end we wiſht your Lordſhip here,
To auoide the carping cenſures of the world.
Buc. But ſince you come too late of our intents,
Yet witneſſe what we did intend,and ſo my Lord adue.
Glo. After,after,coſen Buckingham. Exit Maior.
The Maior towards Guildhall hies him in all poſt,
There at your meeteſt aduantage of the time,
Inferre the baſtardy of Edwards children:
Tell them how Edward put to death a Cittizen,
Onely for ſaying he would make his ſonne
Heire to the Crowne,meaning (indeed) his houſe,
Which by the ſigne thereof was termed ſo.
Moreouer,vrge his hatefull luxurie,
And beſtiall appetite in change of luſt,
Which ſtretched to their ſeruants,daughters,wiues,
Euen where his luſtfull eye, or ſauage heart
Without controll lighted to make his prey:
Nay for a needе thus farre,come neere my perſon,
Tell them,when that my mother went with childe
Of that vnſatiate Edward,noble Yorke,
My princely father then had warres in France,
And by iuſt computation of the time,
Found,that the iſſue was not his begot,
Which well appeared in his lineaments,
Being nothing like the noble Duke my father:
But touch this ſparingly as it were farre off,
Becauſe you know,my Lord,my mother liues.
